1. [adjective] That day was different because the staff knew me.
2. [adjective] The sharks are large and scary.
3. [article] There was an old woman who felt sick on the Ferris Wheel.
4. [be] The whole area was quiet and nobody was there.
5. [choice] The Dragon is the biggest mechanical ride in Ocean Park. It has a fantastic appearance which is in red and white.
6. [choice] The sun had set and the sky turned dark.
7. [choice] We stayed in the cable car for half an hour before we could leave the Park.
8. [do] We had our lunch but we all did not feel well after playing the Raging River.
9. [extra word] We queued up at the bus stop happily and waited for the bus to return home.
10. [gerund] The sign outside the bird cage reads, “No Feeding of the birds.”
11. [i.q.] My friends argued and went different ways. I didn’t know what I should do.
12. [infinitive] They would never go to this part of Ocean Park to play again.
13. [infinitive] When we reached the top position of the Ferris Wheel, the beautiful view made us forget our exhaustion.
14. [p.p.] The scared / worried face of the little boy was very funny.
15. [passive] If the jellyfish were female, I would be attracted by them.
16. [plural] But some of us, including me, were not brave enough to take a ride.
17. [plural] One of my friends was so afraid that he fell down on the floor.
18. [preposition] We arrived at Ocean Park at 11 a.m.
19. [pronoun] Last Sunday was my cousin’s birthday.
20. [pronoun] We planned the schedule and talked about where we should go first.
21. [rewrite] It had a nice weather today. The weather was nice today. / It was a nice day today.
22. [simple tense] Some bird droppings fell through the net and landed on Jacky’s head.
23. [spelling] I was very excited because I had never been there before.
24. [subject] After the visit, it was time for our exhausted friends to take a rest.
25. [subject] We took off the bus. And then we entered Ocean Park.